

LANDSCAPE AND GARDENING DONE SMART

When landscaping, select plants and shrubs that are native species to our area. Plants that are indigenous to our region possess traits that have allowed them to adapt to our climate, making them more likely to thrive. These plants require less maintenance and water, saving you both time and money.

For more information regarding native material visit:

www.tneppc.org/Landscaping/Middle_Tennessee.htm or www.enature.com/native_invasive.